FULLSTACK DEVELOPER (m/f/d)

As a Fullstack Developer at Txture, you will work with a strong technical and highly skilled team and have a huge impact on the success of our product. You will be responsible for building APIs and service-level integration. You will work closely with your peers, product managers, and sales engineers and collaborate across teams. We practice pair programming and work with agile methodologies. You will be able to share your knowledge and experience as we practice pair programming and acknowledge learning from each other.

These tasks are waiting for you

- Building modern APIs, service level integrations, and web-based user interfaces
- Collaborate with product management to understand the solution requirements of customers
- Contribute during product release and sprint planning meetings and have ownership over parts of the codebase
- Solve challenging tasks in pair coding sessions to load
- Work on microservices and cloud-native technologies as well as traditional monolithic applications

Our Technology Stack

- React
- TypeScript/JavaScript
- HTML/CSS
- GraphQL/REST

Why you might not want to work with us

- We live a hands-on mentality where everyone feels responsible for identifying and addressing problems. If you are not a proactive person, we won't make you happy.
- Our whole development team is based in Innsbruck at the moment. Therefore, we are looking for someone who can join us in our great office. If you are currently looking for a fully remote job, you might not be our first choice, but try to convince us of your qualifications.
- We share a growth mindset and need to be flexible with all the changes we are facing. If you are not a big fan of changes and rather want to work in a nine-to-five job, we might not be the perfect employer for you.
- We are still small and are dependent on proactive people. If you just want to go with the flow, we won't make you happy.
