

RDSO_32503

Solution Architect for Medical Software (m/f/d)

Research & Development

Innsbruck, Austria

Professionals Full-Time 38.5h Permanent

Your Tasks

- Create requirements, design concepts, and interface specifications for the development and integration of software features on desktop, mobile, and cloud platforms
- Maintain an overview of current and future software features and products to ensure their integration into the overall vision and strategy
- Support the design and validation of new applications and solutions in close coordination with stakeholders; act as a liaison between product management, project management, usability engineers, and development teams to facilitate information exchange
- Support the transfer of research projects to product development
- Actively participate in the agile development process and support various development teams in the implementation of software solutions

Your Profile

- Bachelor`s degree or higher degree (University, FH) in Information Technology, Engineering, or a related field
- Experience in defining software solutions and requirements
- Knowledge of software project management, software engineering technologies, agile development processes, cloud technologies, and regulated environments is a plus
- Excellent analytical skills; well-organized, communicative, and self-motivated personality
- Very good English skills, both written and spoken; German is a plus

Further information

Minimum Salary

Annual gross salary from € 53.650,51, based on professional qualification and experience.

Earliest Entry Date

This position is to be filled immediately.

Your Contact Person

If you have any questions please contact Chantal Heiland.

Want to join a company that helps bring the joy of sound to people with hearing loss? Apply now!